Civil Action No. 3:17-cv-347 WHB-LRA

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF AND INDIVIDUAL DAMAGES

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. The Sheriff's Department of Madison County, Mississippi ("MCSD") implements a coordinated top-down program of methodically targeting Black individuals for suspicionless searches and seizures while they are driving their cars, walking in their neighborhoods, or even just spending time in their own homes (the "Policing Program"). MCSD deputies frequently use unjustified and excessive force in conducting these searches and seizures.

2. The MCSD's Policing Program impacts virtually every aspect of Black residents' lives. Simple daily activities—such as commuting to work, grocery shopping, visiting friends and family, attending church, or even sitting on the steps outside one's own home—present the very real possibility of unlawful and humiliating searches and seizures, as well as the attendant prospect of arrest and jail time for unpaid fines and fees.¹

3. As a result, many Black residents of Madison County experience chronic fear and anxiety, disruptions to their everyday activities, restrictions on travel within their own neighborhoods and towns, and a tremendous reluctance to contact law enforcement officials for assistance when necessary. Some Black community members go so far as to avoid leaving their homes to limit the risk of encountering one of the MCSD's many illegal roadblocks or pedestrian "checkpoints" described below. In effect, the Policing Program has placed the Black community of Madison County under a permanent state of siege.

4. The hallmark tactics of the MCSD's longstanding and deeply-entrenched Policing Program include:

- vehicular roadblocks designed and placed to target Black individuals for highly intrusive, pretextual, and suspicionless searches and seizures in Madison County's majority-Black towns, residential neighborhoods, and business districts;
- pedestrian "checkpoints" designed to target Black individuals for suspicionless searches and seizures, including while entering or exiting predominantly-Black housing complexes;
- warrantless and consentless searches of the homes of Black residents, sometimes accompanied by suspicionless searches and seizures of all persons within; and
- "Jump Out" patrols of plainclothes deputies deployed in unmarked cars in Black communities to stealthily and aggressively target Black individuals for unreasonable searches and seizures.

The MCSD also relies on a broad range of other methods—including suspicionless traffic stops and suspicionless frisks of pedestrians—to target Black community members for illegal searches and seizures.

5. The MCSD has deployed the unconstitutional racially discriminatory policing tactics described above pursuant to a single overarching policy, custom, and/or practice of systematically conducting unreasonable searches and seizures of persons, homes, cars, and property on the basis of race.

6. The Policing Program is so persistent and widespread as to practically have the force of law in Madison County.

7. Like many policing policies, practices, and customs deemed unconstitutional by federal courts and the United States Department of Justice,² each of the policing practices conducted pursuant to the MCSD's Policing Program independently violates both the Fourth Amendment's prohibition on unreasonable searches and seizures and the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

8. The Policing Program is rooted in Madison County's infamous history of racial animus. The wealthiest county in Mississippi, Madison County is now and has always been acutely racially segregated. Past Madison County Sheriffs have violently opposed racial integration, led white supremacist organizations,³ and willfully turned a blind eye to racially

³ See, e.g., Officer Memorials, Sheriff Randy Tucker, <http://www.sheriffRANDYTucker.com/officer-memorials/> (last visited May 5, 2017) (reprinting September 10, 1959 Madison County Herald article stating that former Madison County Sheriff Marion F. Simpson “was one of the organizers of the local Citizens Council and remained as one of its most active leaders, also serving on the Executive Committee of the state association of Citizens Councils.”). The Citizens Council was formed in opposition to discriminatory conditions of confinement. These sheriffs used many of the same unconstitutional racially discriminatory policing tactics employed in the Policing Program. For example, during the Civil Rights era, Madison County Sheriff Billy Noble regularly established roadblocks to conduct unconstitutional searches and seizures of Black motorists.

9. The MCSD's Policing Program has resulted in stark racial disparities in policing outcomes that cannot be explained by alternative non-race-based factors. Although only 38% of Madison County residents are Black,⁴ approximately 73% of arrests in Madison County between May and September of 2016 were of Black individuals. Only 23% arrests during this time period were of white individuals, even though Madison County is 57% white.⁵ These statistics suggest that the arrest rate for Black individuals is nearly five times the arrest rate for white individuals in Madison County.⁶

10. Because the MCSD targets Black communities for roadblocks and suspicionless pedestrian stops, the vast majority of individuals arrested at roadblocks and pedestrian stops in Madison County are Black. Between May and September 2016, 81% of arrests at roadblocks and 82% of arrests at pedestrian stops in Madison County were of Black individuals.

11. At roadblocks and pedestrian stops, the MCSD overwhelmingly arrests Black individuals. However, white arrestees are 1.4 times more likely than Black arrestees to be charged with driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol. They are 1.1 times more likely to be charged with a drug crime. In contrast, Black arrestees face over 3.2 times the odds for white individuals of being charged only with a petty revenue-generating vehicle infraction, like having a burned out headlight or no seat belt. This data suggests a pattern of population-targeted as opposed to public safety-motivated policing.

12. Over the years, the MCSD's Policing Program has led to thousands of violations of the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments of the United States Constitution. The Policing Program is "unquestionably . . . the moving force" behind these constitutional violations within the meaning of the Supreme Court's decision in Monell v. Department of Social Services of City of New York, 436 U.S. 658, 694-95 (1978).

13. Since taking office in January 2012, Sheriff Randall S. Tucker ("Sheriff Tucker") has adopted and implemented the Policing Program in its entirety.

14. Sheriff Tucker has not only enforced the Policing Program but also expanded its scope. Among other actions, he has enacted or maintained a written roadblock policy that sanctions unconstitutional racially discriminatory roadblocks. In essence, Sheriff Tucker has empowered MCSD deputies with enhanced authority and implicit encouragement to target the members of Madison County's Black community for unreasonable searches and seizures.

15. Sheriff Tucker has been deliberately indifferent to the constitutional violations caused by the Policing Program. Among other actions and inactions, he has: (1) on information and belief, failed to investigate a Black MCSD deputy's complaint of racially discriminatory policing practices and the unjustified use of physical force against Black community members;

(2) hired a deputy with a documented history of misconduct involving the excessive use of force; (3) chosen not to establish any rules or regulations prohibiting racial bias in policing; (4) decided not to maintain basic data on the MCSD's policing practices, such as the dates and locations of roadblocks; and (5) stopped keeping records of complaints against MCSD deputies.

16. For at least a decade, the Madison County Board of Supervisors has known that the MCSD systematically targets the Black community for unreasonable searches and seizures. The Madison County Board of Supervisors has also been aware of a pattern of constitutional violations suffered by the Black residents of Madison County as a direct result of the MCSD's Policing Program.

17. However, the Madison County Board of Supervisors has been deliberately indifferent to these constitutional violations by failing to investigate the MCSD's racially discriminatory policing practices and/or its pattern of conducting unreasonable searches and seizures, and by failing to require the MCSD to take any actions to: (a) establish policies that prohibit racially discriminatory policing practices and/or unreasonable searches and seizures; (b) screen, train, and supervise MCSD deputies, employees, and agents to prevent MCSD personnel from employing unconstitutional racially discriminatory policing practices and/or conducting unreasonable searches and seizures; (c) monitor MCSD deputies, employees, and agents to ensure that their policing practices comply with constitutional requirements; and/or (d) discipline MCSD deputies, employees, and agents who employ racially discriminatory policing practices and/or conduct unreasonable searches and seizures.

18. This policy of inaction by the Madison County Board of Supervisors is the functional equivalent of a decision by Madison County itself to violate the Constitution. By failing to take any steps to investigate or remedy the MCSD's systematic targeting of Black residents for unreasonable searches and seizures, the Board of Supervisors has implicitly sanctioned and endorsed the Policing Program.

19. Plaintiffs Latoya Brown, Lawrence Blackmon, Herbert Anthony Green, Khadafy Manning, Quinnetta Manning, Marvin McField, Nicholas Singleton, Steven Smith, Bessie Thomas, and Betty Jean Williams Tucker (collectively, the “named Plaintiffs”) are among the thousands of victims of Madison County’s Policing Program. Most of the named Plaintiffs have been subjected to the MCSD’s unreasonable race-based searches and seizures multiple times in recent months and years. The named Plaintiffs seek to represent a class consisting of similarly situated Black individuals who have been, are now, or will be subject to the MCSD’s racially discriminatory Policing Program described herein (the “Class” or “Class members”).

20. The defendants in this action are Madison County, acting by and through the Madison County Board of Supervisors; Sheriff Tucker, personally and as the policymaking official of the Madison County Sheriff’s Department; and Madison County Sheriff’s Department Deputies John Does #1 through #6 (collectively, “Defendants”).

21. Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and the Class members, seek relief for Defendants’ violations of their rights, privileges, and immunities secured by the Civil Rights Act of 1971, 42 U.S.C. § 1983 (“Section 1983”), the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution, and Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. § 2000(d), et seq. (“Title VI”).

22. The named Plaintiffs seek to represent a certified class for the purpose of obtaining injunctive and declaratory relief only. They seek a class-wide judgment declaring that the policies, practices, and/or customs described herein violate the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments, and a class-wide injunction enjoining Defendants from continuing to implement these policies, practices, and/or customs. Unless such declaratory and injunctive relief is obtained, the named Plaintiffs and Class members will continue to face a substantial threat that they will again be subject to the unconstitutional racially discriminatory policing practices described herein.

23. In addition, certain named Plaintiffs seek compensatory and punitive damages only for themselves.

24. Plaintiffs also seek an award of attorneys' fees and costs and such other relief as this Court deems equitable and just.

Defendants

41. Defendant MADISON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI (“Madison County” or the “County”) is a political subdivision of the State of Mississippi that can sue and be sued in its own name. Upon information and belief, Madison County programs and activities, including programs and activities of the MCSD, receive federal financial assistance.⁷ The County and its departments are therefore required under federal law to conduct their programs and activities in a racially and ethnically non-discriminatory manner. The “chief policy making and administrative body” of the County is, and at all times relevant hereto has been, the Madison County Board of Supervisors (the “Board of Supervisors” or the “Board”), which describes itself as “the one body which supervises almost everything that goes on in county government.”⁸ The Board of Supervisors is comprised of five elected Supervisors, one from each of the five districts in Madison County. For at least a decade, Defendant Madison County has had actual knowledge of a longstanding pattern of constitutional violations inflicted on the Black community by the MCSD pursuant to the Policing Program. By both its action and inaction, Defendant Madison County has either sanctioned, or been deliberately indifferent to, the MCSD’s policy of systematically executing unreasonable searches and seizures on the basis of race.

42. Defendant RANDALL S. TUCKER is, and has been since January 2012, the Sheriff of Madison County, Mississippi. Under Mississippi law, sheriffs “are final policymakers with respect to all law enforcement decisions made within their counties.”⁹ Sheriff Tucker is and was responsible for each of the unconstitutional racially discriminatory practices that comprises the Policing Program. He is either the chief architect of, or has adopted and endorsed, every one of the illegal policing tactics described herein. Sheriff Tucker is, and has been since January

43. Defendants JOHN DOES #1 through #6 are, and/or were, at all times relevant herein, deputies, employees, and agents of the MCSD, a department of Madison County. John Does #1 through #6 are sued in their individual capacities. The true names and total number of John Does #1 through #6 are unknown to Plaintiffs, and therefore Plaintiffs sue these Defendants by such fictitious names. Plaintiffs will amend their complaint to state the true names of John Does #1 through #6 after such information has been identified.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

I. A Brief Overview of Madison County, Mississippi

46. Madison County is a majority-white county. According to the 2010 census, approximately 58% of Madison County residents are white and 38% are Black.¹⁰ The County is now and has always been acutely racially segregated.

47. More than a decade ago, now-Chief Judge Carl. E. Stewart of the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit acknowledged the “confluence of . . . geography and demography” in Madison County.¹¹ He stated that the resulting “racial isolation” in Madison County was “foreboding and potentially deleterious.”¹² Chief Judge Stewart’s description of segregation in Madison County still rings true today. Madison County remains divided into predominantly Black towns, neighborhoods, and business districts and predominantly white towns, neighborhoods, and business districts.

48. The County's two largest cities are majority-white: the City of Madison (85% white; 10% Black; population 24,000)¹³ and Ridgeland (59% white; 33% Black; population 24,000).¹⁴ Madison County's two largest majority-Black municipalities are the city of Canton (75% Black; 20% white; 6% Latino; population 13,000)¹⁵ and the town of Flora (51% Black; 47% white; population 1,800).¹⁶

49. Madison County is the wealthiest county in Mississippi,¹⁷ and its wealth is heavily concentrated among its white citizens. For example, the average household income in the City of Madison is more than double that in Canton ($97,000 vs. $40,000); residents of the City of Madison own the homes in which they live at nearly double the rate of Canton residents (92% vs. 56%); and the poverty rate in the City of Madison is a small fraction of the rate in Canton (3.5% vs. 27%).¹⁸

50. Madison County's pervasive racial segregation has facilitated the MCSD's racially discriminatory policing practices by enabling MCSD deputies to use geographic criteria to isolate and target Black residents of Madison County for unconstitutional searches and seizures.

II. The MCSD's Policing Program

51. For at least two decades, if not longer, the MCSD has implemented a coordinated top-down program of methodically targeting Black individuals for suspicionless searches and seizures.

52. Pursuant to the Policing Program, the MCSD employs a series of integrated tactics to systematically conduct unreasonable searches and seizures of persons, homes, cars, and property on the basis of race. During the course of these illegal searches and seizures, MCSD deputies routinely detain members of the Black community without probable cause, and often issue citations and make arrests either without legal justification or to recover outstanding fines and fees, typically for minor infractions.

53. The various unconstitutional racially discriminatory policing practices that comprise the Policing Program range in scope and severity, but they are all conducted pursuant to the MCSD's single overarching policy, custom, and/or practice of systematically conducting unreasonable searches and seizures of persons, homes, cars, and property on the basis of race. This policy, custom, and/or practice is so persistent and widespread as to practically have the force of law in Madison County.

54. Like many policing policies, practices, and customs deemed unconstitutional by federal courts and the United States Department of Justice,¹⁹ the MCSD's Policing Program combines unlawful methods of searches and seizures in violation of the Fourth Amendment with an impermissible race-based classification in violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

55. The MCSD's Policing Program also violates the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment because race-based suspicion is integral to its functioning. The MCSD's Policing Program in fact depends on the use of race to determine which individuals to target for unreasonable searches and seizures in violation of the Fourth Amendment. As such, the MCSD's Policing Program is a government program with an express racial classification; it is subject to, and fails, strict scrutiny.

56. The most frequently-used illegal policing tactics of the MCSD's Policing Program are described below, and substantiated by the allegations of the named Plaintiffs in paragraphs 178 through 298 below. In addition, the MCSD also engages in a broad range of other unconstitutional racially discriminatory policing practices—including suspicionless traffic stops and suspicionless frisks of pedestrians—that impermissibly target Black community members for unlawful searches and seizures. Taken together, these policing methods have effectively placed the Black community of Madison County under a permanent state of siege.

A. Pretextual and Highly Intrusive Vehicular Roadblocks

57. The MCSD operates a network of pretextual and highly intrusive vehicular roadblocks concentrated in and around the majority Black cities and neighborhoods of Madison County. These roadblocks are typically located on roadways close to Black homes, employers of Black residents, Black-owned businesses, and civic institutions frequented by the Black community.

58. Because the MCSD targets Black communities for roadblocks, the vast majority of individuals arrested at Madison County’s roadblocks are Black. Almost 81% of roadblock arrests in Madison County between May and September of 2016 were of Black individuals.

59. The MCSD maintains a formal written policy (the “General Roadblocks Policy”) that expressly authorizes “[a]ll [d]eputies” to “conduct random roadblocks for all traffic violations, escapees, or wanted subjects.”²⁰ The General Roadblocks Policy places no restrictions on how and when MCSD deputies may conduct these roadblocks. Significantly, the General Roadblocks Policy does not require deputies to use race-neutral criteria when selecting roadblock locations. A copy of the MCSD’s Roadblocks Policy is attached as Exhibit A.

60. The MCSD regularly establishes roadblocks in Canton, the county seat and the largest majority-Black city within Madison County. Most of the Canton neighborhoods targeted for roadblocks are lined by quiet, residential streets, not busy highways or thoroughfares. A map depicting recent representative roadblock locations appears below.

²⁰ General Roadblocks, in POLICY AND PROCEDURE, Office of the Sheriff, Madison County, Mississippi.

61. The MCSD sometimes sets up more than one vehicular roadblock in the Canton area within a single day; multiple vehicular roadblocks within a single week are not uncommon.

62. The MCSD rarely, if ever, locates roadblocks in the predominantly white neighborhoods and business districts of Madison County.

63. On information and belief, the MCSD does not select roadblock locations for safety and visibility. Instead, the MCSD often sets up roadblocks in poorly-lit, difficult-to-see locations. These roadblocks and checkpoints are usually manned by plainclothes MCSD deputies who drive unmarked vehicles. While these deputies may wear tactical body armor over their plain clothes, the deputies are not otherwise identifiable as law enforcement officers.

64. In one instance in 2015, a Black individual (the “driver”) was stopped at a roadblock by an MCSD deputy who waved him down with a flashlight while standing in the middle of a dark and isolated road. There were no other law enforcement vehicles or any other signs of a roadblock. The driver reported that if he had not been paying close attention, he could have struck the MCSD deputy because the deputy was barely visible. The MCSD deputy asked the driver to get out of the car, even though there was no basis for reasonable suspicion. Only after searching the driver unlawfully did the MCSD deputy permit the driver to proceed.

65. Often, the MCSD’s roadblocks are “roving” in nature. Deputies will sometimes drive away after a short time to set up a roadblock at another location nearby. At other times, plainclothes deputies will park their vehicles in one location and walk to a different street corner to flag down motorists with flashlights.

66. The MCSD also sets up semi-concealed roadblocks within the parking lots of Madison County’s majority-Black housing complexes. These roadblocks are usually located at the sole operational entry and exit to the complexes. A map depicting recent representative roadblock locations appears below. These roadblocks unreasonably violate Black residents’ legitimate expectations of privacy in and around their own homes, and unconstitutionally restrict their freedom to leave and return to their homes unimpeded by government intrusion.

67. Once an MCSD deputy stops a vehicle at a roadblock, the deputy typically requires both the driver of the vehicle and any passengers riding in the vehicle to provide a driver's license or another form of identification. The MCSD deputy usually runs these identifications against police databases to determine whether the detained individuals can be arrested to collect unpaid fines and fees owed to the County.

68. In the experience of named Plaintiff Mrs. Tucker, who has been repeatedly stopped at the MCSD's roadblocks, MCSD deputies do not follow a standard operating procedure in conducting these roadblocks. MCSD deputies have sometimes asked Mrs. Tucker to produce her driver's license and proof of her insurance, but at other times they have only asked for her license. MCSD deputies have usually taken Mrs. Tucker's license and checked it for unpaid fines, but sometimes the MCSD deputy running the roadblock has just glanced at her license and waved her through.

69. Traveling through the MCSD's roadblocks can take 10 to 20 minutes per vehicle, even when MCSD deputies do nothing more than check identification. These delays are sometimes compounded when MCSD deputies conduct suspicionless searches of Black motorists, their passengers, and their vehicles during these stops.

70. The MCSD does not generally provide any advance notice of its roadblocks. However, the MCSD recently published a notice of planned roadblocks (the "Roadblock Notice") that was posted on social media. The Roadblock Notice stated that the MCSD "will have" a roadblock "at one or more of" of dozens of listed locations between January 19, 2017 and January 22, 2017.²¹ The Roadblock Notice was so overbroad that it effectively provided no notice at all. A copy of the Roadblock Notice is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

71. For members of the Black community, the MCSD's roadblocks are much more than an inconvenience. Passing through these unconstitutionally intrusive roadblocks is fraught with the potential for harassment, intimidation, demeaning searches, baseless citations, and possibly even arrest and subsequent incarceration.

²¹ The Roadblock Notice refers to "checkpoints" rather than "roadblocks." However, please note the MCSD uses the terms "roadblock" and "checkpoint" interchangeably when referring to the type of roadblocks described herein.

72. Black community members therefore go to great lengths to avoid the MCSD's roadblocks. They rely on an informal system of warnings communicated by friends and family through social media, texts, and phone calls. Black individuals often change their travel and personal plans based on the presence of these roadblocks.

73. For example, one of the named Plaintiffs in this action, Mrs. Tucker, devotes a great deal of time and effort to finding out the locations of MCSD's roadblocks. She uses phone calling trees, Facebook pages, smart phone apps, and texting lists to get news of the roadblocks. Although Mrs. Tucker has a valid license, registration, and insurance, she frequently rearranges her life to avoid the MCSD's roadblocks, typically by cancelling her plans and not leaving the house to see family or friends.

74. One private Facebook group page that regularly warns of roadblocks in Madison County (the "Facebook Warning Page") has nearly 1,800 members, the vast majority of whom are Black. The Facebook Warning Page features messages such as "Madison County is pulling people over on bikes and everything" and "Roadblock on maple by the tracks! They got their lights off." According to recent posts, the MCSD has set up roadblocks outside of churches, the Madison County Department of Human Services office (which issues food stamps), and fast food restaurants.

75. Many of the named Plaintiffs in this action—including Mr. McField, Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Tucker, and Mrs. Thomas—have been repeatedly stopped at the MCSD's roadblocks. One of the named Plaintiffs, Mr. Singleton, has been stopped at the MCSD's roadblocks at least 20 times in the past year.

1. The Primary Purpose of the MCSD's System of Roadblocks Is to Target Black Motorists for Unreasonable Searches and Seizures

76. Under the Supreme Court's decision in City of Indianapolis v. Edmond, 531 U.S. 32 (2000), the constitutionality of a roadblock turns on its primary purpose. The primary purpose of the MCSD's system of roadblocks is now and has always been to target Black motorists, their passengers, and their vehicles for unreasonable searches and seizures. The MCSD's concentration of roadblocks in predominantly-Black areas, as well as at the entry and exit points of majority-Black apartment complexes, is compelling evidence of this patently unconstitutional primary purpose.

77. An additional or alternative primary purpose of the MCSD's system of roadblocks is the sort of "general interest in crime control" held unconstitutional in Edmond. A recent notice of roadblock activity promulgated by the MCSD (the Roadblock Notice) illustrates this impermissible purpose. The Roadblock Notice lists the locations of dozens of potential roadblocks and expressly states that the "purpose" of these roadblocks "will be to check for Driver's licenses, warrants and whatever else we encounter" (emphasis added).²²

78. On information and belief, MCSD deputies often use roadblock stops as a means of looking for contraband. Deputies regularly question Black motorists and Black passengers at roadblock stops in an effort to gain probable cause for conducting searches based on the individuals' expressions or answers, or the supposed odor of marijuana in the vehicle or on one of the detained individuals.

79. Another additional or alternative primary purpose of the MCSD's system of roadblocks is to enrich the County by generating municipal revenue through the collection of unpaid fees and fines from the County's disempowered minority populations. This purpose is clearly impermissible under both the Fourth Amendment and the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

80. The MCSD has refused to produce any "policies and protocols describing" the "purpose" for its roadblocks, or any records documenting either "[t]he criteria used in determining the location[s] of [these] roadblocks" or the "[p]rotocol enforced for determining which cars to stop."²³ However, to the extent that the MCSD attempts to claim that the primary purpose of its roadblocks is to check for valid drivers' licenses and up-to-date vehicle registrations, or for any other traffic safety purpose, any such stated purpose is plainly pretextual. The operation of roadblocks at the entry and exit points of majority-Black apartment complexes in quiet residential neighborhoods, rather than on heavily-trafficked open roadways or locations with a history of traffic hazards, clearly demonstrates that the primary purpose of the MCSD roadblocks is not traffic safety. The absence of such roadblocks in majority-white neighborhoods, where traffic safety is of equal importance, further lays bare the pretextual purpose of the MCSD's roadblocks. Any claimed purpose of traffic safety is also belied by the fact that MCSD deputies regularly require passengers, as well as pedestrians passing by roadblocks, to produce identification and submit to searches, as discussed in paragraphs 81 through 90.

²³ See ACLU Public Records Request (Sept. 15, 2016), Items 3(a), 4(f), and 4(n); see also Letter from Sheriff Tucker to the ACLU (Oct. 31, 2016) (stating that the records requested in Items 3(a), 4(f), and 4(n) are "deemed exempt from the Public Records Act" on the grounds that "any policies that contain information that would impede the Madison County Sheriff's Department in its enforcement of the law or reveal investigatory procedures used by the Department that are necessary to detect and prosecute certain criminal behavior are exempt from production").

B. Suspicionless Searches and Seizures of Black Pedestrians

81. One of the MCSD's most flagrantly unconstitutional racially discriminatory policing tactics is its implementation of pedestrian "checkpoints."

82. MCSD deputies regularly require Black pedestrians to stop at the vehicular roadblocks described above. In other words, a vehicular roadblock can at any time also serve as a pedestrian "checkpoint." On information and belief, Sheriff Tucker has authorized MCSD deputies to implement pedestrian "checkpoints" whenever and wherever they are conducting vehicular roadblocks.

83. Because the MCSD typically enforces these pedestrian "checkpoints" at the same locations as its vehicular roadblocks, the MCSD's pedestrian "checkpoints" are also concentrated in and around the majority Black cities and neighborhoods of Madison County.

84. As a consequence, the vast majority of individuals arrested at pedestrian stops in Madison County are Black. Approximately 82% of arrests at pedestrian stops in Madison County between May and September of 2016 were of Black individuals.

85. Frequently, the MCSD enforces semi-concealed pedestrian “checkpoints” concurrently with vehicular roadblocks at the sole operational entry and exit to majority-Black housing complexes. These “checkpoints” violate Black residents’ legitimate expectations of privacy in and around their own homes, and unconstitutionally restrict their freedom to leave and return to their homes unimpeded by government intrusion.

86. On information and belief, MCSD deputies do not establish pedestrian checkpoints in predominantly-white towns, residential neighborhoods or business districts.

87. Once an MCSD deputy stops a Black pedestrian at a “checkpoint,” the deputy typically requires the pedestrian provide a driver’s license or another form of identification. The MCSD deputy usually runs the pedestrian’s identification against police databases to determine whether the detained individual can be arrested to collect unpaid fines and fees. In addition, MCSD deputies often subject pedestrians passing through these “checkpoints” to demeaning and unconstitutional searches.

88. On information and belief, the purpose of these pedestrian “checkpoints” is to conduct a fishing expedition to find any possible basis, no matter how tenuous, for issuing citations to and/or arresting members of the Black community.

89. For example, in January 2017, one of the named Plaintiffs in this action—Mr. Smith—was arrested after being detained and illegally searched at a pedestrian “checkpoint” at the entrance to the predominantly-Black affordable housing complex where he resides. Mr. Smith was arrested after a check of his identification revealed that he had outstanding fines and fees.

90. There is clearly no constitutional basis for MCSD deputies to require Black pedestrians to pass through “checkpoints” as they are coming in and out of their homes or going about their daily activities. Forcing citizens of the United States to “show their papers” in this fashion runs afoul of the law as well as the most basic norms of decency in domestic policing.

C. Warrantless and Consentless Searches of the Homes of Black Residents

91. In the course of investigating potential offenses, searching for missing persons, or canvassing for individuals with outstanding arrest warrants, MCSD deputies frequently enter the homes of Black residents of Madison County without search warrants and without consent.

92. While they are in Black residents’ homes, MCSD deputies routinely engage in searches and seizures that further violate the Fourth Amendment. These unconstitutional practices include the detention and restraint of Black individuals not suspected of any wrongdoing, and are often accompanied by the use of force.

93. For example:

a) In June 2016, six white male MCSD deputies forcibly entered the family home of Mr. and Mrs. Manning, two named Plaintiffs in this action. The deputies did not have a search warrant. The deputies attempted to coerce Mr. Manning to write a false witness statement against a neighbor’s boyfriend. When Mr. Manning refused, one of the deputies handcuffed him, choked him, and beat him in the back seat of an MCSD law enforcement vehicle.

b) In March 2016, two MCSD deputies forcibly entered the home of Mr. Blackmon, one of the named Plaintiffs in this action. The MCSD deputies claimed they had a warrant for the arrest of one of Mr. Blackmon’s relatives, but the deputies refused to provide Mr. Blackmon with an opportunity to review the warrant. One of the deputies forced Mr.

Blackmon to the ground at gunpoint, and handcuffed his wrists behind his back. The deputies then proceeded to search Mr. Blackmon's entire residence, ostensibly for the purpose of finding the person named in the warrant. The MCSD deputies searched inside Mr. Blackmon's dresser drawers and other small closed compartments that could not possibly conceal an adult man.

c) In October 2015, MCSD deputies forcibly entered the home of Mr. Smith, a named Plaintiff in this action. The deputies did not provide Mr. Smith with a search warrant, but they claimed to be looking for a missing person. Without Mr. Smith's consent, the deputies conducted a search of Mr. Smith's home, including examining inside bureau drawers and other small closed compartments that could not reasonably contain a person. One of the deputies even woke up Mr. Smith's daughter, who was only three years old at the time, to ask her if she knew anything about the missing person.

d) Several years ago, MCSD deputies stormed into a celebratory barbecue hosted by Mrs. Tucker, one of the named plaintiffs in this action, at her home in Canton. Without a warrant or any reason for suspecting criminal activity, the MCSD deputies conducted searches of Mrs. Tucker's guests, including by digging into their pockets. The MCSD deputies also got down on their hands and knees to search Mrs. Tucker's patio. Finding nothing, they left without explanation.

94. It is common for MCSD deputies to harass Black residents while they are walking on the grounds of their apartment complexes, sitting on their patios, or spending time in their own yards, particularly after the sun has set. MCSD deputies often interrupt Black community members' leisure and family time with demands for identification, intrusive questioning and suspicionless searches. MCSD deputies also regularly instruct Black community members to disperse or return indoors, and threaten arrest and jail time for noncompliance.

95. The MCSD's unconstitutional policing practices in and around Black community members' homes discourage Black residents from spending time outdoors, and from gathering outside with friends and family. These tactics effectively impose a "curfew" pursuant to which being outside of one's own home after dark is reason enough to be detained or arrested. The MCSD's hostile and unreasonable approach to policing the Black community violates Black residents' reasonable expectations of privacy in their own homes, and greatly diminishes their sense of personal security.

96. On information and belief, the MCSD does not engage in these unconstitutional policing practices in the homes, yards, and neighborhoods of Madison County's white residents.

D. "Jump Out" Patrols

97. The MCSD also engages in systematic illegal searches and seizures of Black community members through "Jump Out" patrols that aim to take Black community members by surprise for suspicionless searches and seizures. These patrols are conducted by plainclothes MCSD deputies driving unmarked vehicles.

98. The "Jump-Out" deputies often target groups of young Black men walking or riding bicycles together.

99. On information and belief, the "Jump Out" deputies select their targets purely on the basis of race and without any reasonable suspicion or probable cause; MCSD deputies do not target white residents for "Jump Out" patrols.

100. When the “Jump Out” deputies encounter their intended targets, the deputies rapidly exit their vehicles and proceed to conduct unreasonable and extensive searches of every individual.

101. For example:

a) In October 2015, named Plaintiff Mr. Green and two Black male friends were stopped by a “Jump Out” patrol when they were walking down the street. A plainclothes MCSD deputy emerged from an unmarked vehicle and searched the men, even though he had no reasonable suspicion to do so. On information and belief, when the deputy found some cash in one of Mr. Green’s friend’s pants pocket, the deputy demanded to know how that individual obtained the funds, repeatedly referring to him as a “Black dope boy.” The deputy released Mr. Green and his friends after finding no illegal drugs or other grounds for arrest.

b) Approximately five years ago, named Plaintiff Mrs. Tucker witnessed two “Jump Out” patrol deputies tackle her teenage grandson to the ground. The deputies conducted an aggressive search of her grandson’s pockets. They left abruptly after finding nothing. Before the deputies descended upon Mrs. Tucker’s grandson, he had been fixing his brother’s bicycle in his front yard.

102. Often, the “Jump Out” deputies handcuff Black individuals while they conduct their searches, and threaten arrest and jail time for failing to comply with their demands. The “Jump Out” deputies also threaten onlookers and passers-by with arrest if they do not immediately leave the scene or return to their homes.

103. “Jump Out” patrols frequently take place outside of Black-owned businesses, causing customers to flee. On information and belief, the MCSD does not employ “Jump Out” patrols in the vicinity of white-owned businesses.

104. On information and belief, the MCSD uses these “Jump Out” patrols to deter customers from patronizing Black-owned businesses. The “Jump Out” patrols, together with the MCSD’s other discriminatory policing tactics, have dramatically affected the profitability of Black-owned businesses.

III. Race-Based Statistical Disparities in Policing Outcomes Provide Compelling Evidence of the MCSD’s Policing Program

105. The MCSD’s Policing Program has resulted in stark racial disparities in policing outcomes that cannot be explained by alternative non-race-based factors.

106. For example, although only 38% of Madison County residents are Black,²⁴ approximately 73% of arrests Madison County between May and September of 2016 were of Black individuals. Only 23% of arrests during this time period were of white individuals, even though Madison County is 57% white.²⁵ These statistics suggest that the arrest rate for Black individuals is nearly five times the arrest rate for white individuals in Madison County.²⁶

²⁴ Based on 2010 Census data. See Quickfacts: Madison County, Mississippi, U.S. Census Bureau, <http://www.census.gov/quickfacts/table/PST045216/28089,28> (last visited May 5, 2017).

²⁵ Based on 2010 Census data. See Quickfacts: Madison County, Mississippi, U.S. Census Bureau, <http://www.census.gov/quickfacts/table/PST045216/28089,28> (last visited May 5, 2017).

107. Moreover, a disproportionate number of the MCSD's arrests are made in majority-Black towns. For example, the majority-Black city of Canton represents approximately 14% of Madison County's population, but accounted for nearly 47% of arrests made in Madison County between May and September 2016.

108. Because the MCSD targets Black communities for roadblocks and suspicionless pedestrian stops, the vast majority of individuals arrested at roadblocks and pedestrian stops in Madison County are Black. Between May and September 2016, 81% of arrests at roadblocks and 82% of arrests at pedestrian stops in Madison County were of Black individuals.

109. These dramatic racial disparities in policing outcomes have existed for years. A 2014 article in The Clarion-Ledger reported that while only 34% of Madison County's population was Black at the time, 78% of those arrested in Madison County were Black—among the largest disparity of the Mississippi counties cited.²⁷

110. Similarly, an investigation conducted by USA Today revealed that the MCSD's 2011-2012 arrest rates were 92.4 per 1000 for Black residents, as opposed to only 15.9 per 1000 for non-Black residents.²⁸

111. These statistical disparities serve as compelling evidence that the MCSD's Policing Program violates the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

IV. The MCSD's Policing Program Is Longstanding and Deeply-Entrenched

112. The MCSD's Policing Program is a deeply-entrenched policy, custom, and/or practice that has been in existence for years. The program has its roots in Madison County's long history of unconstitutional, racially discriminatory policing practices.

113. During the Civil Rights era, Madison County Sheriff Billy Noble ("Sheriff Noble") was known for his "infamous road blocks,"²⁹ and his practice of "often arrest[ing] and jail[ing] black folk because he felt like it."³⁰

114. Billy Noble remained Sheriff through the 1980s. He and other Madison County officials were subject to a consent judgment regarding jail conditions in Madison County, including racially discriminatory practices.³¹ Sheriff Noble's successor, Sheriff Jessie Hopkins, was held in contempt for violations of this consent judgment,³² and complaints regarding the MCSD's racially discriminatory practices in connection with its management of the Madison County Detention Center have continued to the present day.³³

115. Sheriff Tucker's immediate predecessor, Toby Trowbridge ("Sheriff Trowbridge"), served as the Sheriff of Madison County from 1999 until 2011. Sheriff Trowbridge was one of the key architects and most ardent enforcers of the Policing Program. Under his leadership, the MCSD executed thousands of unreasonable searches and seizures of Black motorists, pedestrians, homes, and vehicles.

116. Sheriff Trowbridge's unconstitutional, racially discriminatory policing practices were widely known throughout Madison County.

117. In 2004, the community activist group Citizens Against Racial Profiling spoke out against Sheriff Trowbridge's racial profiling and targeting of Black community members in Madison County.³⁴

118. In 2006, a group of Canton residents ("Concerned Citizens of Canton") presented the Madison County Board of Supervisors with a petition bearing 664 signatures demanding an end to "frequent roadblocks in the predominantly black neighborhoods," "the excessive force and brutality administered by police officers," and "racial profiling."³⁵

119. In July 2006, Canton resident Lauren Elaine attended a Madison County Board of Supervisors meeting on behalf of the Concerned Citizens of Canton. Sheriff Trowbridge was present at the meeting, but he refused to meet with representatives from the Concerned Citizens of Canton. Sheriff Trowbridge denied the use of racial profiling, and stated that the MCSD would continue using roadblocks as a policing practice.

120. On information and belief, the Madison County Board of Supervisors took no action to investigate or address the Concerned Citizens of Canton's claims. However, for a period of time after the petition was submitted, there was a noticeable decrease in roadblocks in Canton, but a corresponding uptick in Flora roadblocks.³⁶

121. According to a July 2007 article in The Clarion-Ledger, District 5 Supervisor Paul Griffin ("Supervisor Griffin"), who is Black, said that many people in Madison County were aware that the MCSD was perceived as targeting Black community members, and had tried to get Sheriff Trowbridge to meet with his critics.³⁷ However, Supervisor Griffin stated that "[t]here is a limit to what the Board of Supervisors can do because the [S]heriff is elected by the people to do his job."³⁸

122. In October 2007, a group of Flora residents ("Concerned Citizens II of Flora") claimed to have video evidence demonstrating that that the MCSD had been setting up roadblocks in predominantly Black neighborhoods, such as Magnolia Heights, while not doing the same in predominantly white neighborhoods.³⁹ The group demanded documentation concerning Sheriff Trowbridge's roadblock policies and practices. Sheriff Trowbridge refused either to provide any such documentation or to meet with representatives of the Concerned Citizens II of Flora.⁴⁰

123. According to a January 2008 article in the Madison County Journal, Sheriff Trowbridge "generally receive[d] very high marks from [the Madison County Board of Supervisors]." ⁴¹ The article noted that Sheriff Trowbridge has "been the subject of complaints from African-Americans living in Canton and Flora who say he practices racial profiling."

124. In November 2007, Sheriff Trowbridge denied charges of racial profiling at a meeting of the Madison County Board of Supervisors.⁴² Three white members of the Board of Supervisors expressed their support for Sheriff Trowbridge during the meeting. However, former District 4 Supervisor Karl Banks ("Supervisor Banks"), who is Black, expressed his disappointment at the way the Board of Supervisors had addressed the issue of racial profiling. Then-Supervisor Banks stated that he routinely fielded complaints about the MCSD, and said that Sheriff Trowbridge should work with people to change the department's image. "The conversation today was about a feeling in the community. . . . I know, as an African American, that there is a real feeling in the community that the [Sheriff's] department is discriminating against people.”⁴³

125. None of the minutes for the Board of Supervisors' meetings reference claims or discussions of racial profiling.⁴⁴ However, minutes from the November 19, 2007 Board of Supervisors meeting indicates that the Board authorized Sheriff Trowbridge to use $50,000 in grant funds for “public safety checkpoints.”⁴⁵ Because the MCSD uses the terms “roadblock” and “checkpoint” interchangeably, these “public safety checkpoints” may have encompassed the racially discriminatory roadblocks described herein.

126. The Clarion Ledger reported that of the 92 official MCSD roadblocks conducted in 2007, many were set up in areas that have higher concentrations of Black or Hispanic residents.⁴⁶ The Clarion Ledger also reported that more roadblocks were conducted in Canton and in unincorporated areas north of Canton than in any other area in 2007, and that roadblocks were often conducted in the same places multiple times throughout the year.⁴⁷

127. In 2008, a number of civil liberties groups, including the American Civil Liberties Union, the Mississippi Immigrant Rights Alliance, and Citizens Against Racial Profiling, called for the resignation of Sheriff Trowbridge for unfairly targeting Blacks and Latinos through racial profiling and roadblocks.⁴⁸ Once again, Sheriff Trowbridge denied engaging in racial profiling and refused to meet with his critics.⁴⁹

128. On March 27, 2008, protestors conducted a march in opposition to Sheriff Trowbridge's racial profiling practices.⁵⁰ Protest organizer David Archie issued a press release stating that: "Over the years since the election of Toby Trowbridge as sheriff of Madison County, numerous individuals have brought forth claims of harassment, intimidation, discrimination and outright brutality by the Madison County sheriff's department. . . . Racial profiling and deputy misconduct are widespread and well known."⁵¹

129. In 2009, Sheriff Trowbridge expressed his opposition to a proposed bill to outlaw racial profiling in Mississippi. However, the police chiefs of two Madison County cities, Canton and Ridgeland, both testified that racial profiling is a problem in Mississippi.⁵² The Canton police chief is Black; the Ridgeland police chief is white.

130. From 2000 until January 2012, current Madison County Sheriff Tucker served as an MCSD deputy under Sheriff Trowbridge. In 2002, Sheriff Tucker became Captain of the MCSD's Narcotics Division. Then-Deputy Tucker had full knowledge of the Policing Program, and he personally implemented many of the unconstitutional racially discriminatory policing practices that comprise the Policing Program.

131. For example, around six years ago, then-Deputy Tucker and other MCSD deputies stormed into the home of named Plaintiff Mr. Singleton just minutes after Deputy Tucker personally delivered a package to Mr. Singleton's home. The package was addressed to a relative who did not reside with Mr. Singleton and was not at Mr. Singleton's home at the time. Mr. Singleton's brother-in-law, who was at Mr. Singleton's home, picked up the package and brought it inside. As soon as he did so, Tucker and his team barged into Mr. Singleton's home. They forced Mr. Singleton, his brother-in-law, and his sister to lay on the floor while they searched Mr. Singleton's home. Mr. Singleton's three-year-old son was present in the home at the time. When Mr. Singleton's sister asked then-Deputy Tucker whether they had a search warrant, Tucker pointed to the box and said: "I don't need a search warrant. That box is my search warrant."

132. In 2011, then-Deputy Tucker ran for Sheriff. During his campaign, then-Deputy Tucker stated that he "want[ed] to maintain the quality of law enforcement that we have under Sheriff Trowbridge."⁵³ He also said: "[a]s Madison County Sheriff, I will continue the high level of law enforcement and justice Madison County residents expect and have enjoyed under Sheriff Toby Trowbridge."⁵⁴ On information and belief, these statements were coded promises to continue the Policing Program.

133. On November 8, 2011, then-Deputy Tucker was elected Sheriff of Madison County. He took office in January 2012.

V. Sheriff Tucker Has Adopted, Implemented, and Expanded the Policing Program

134. Upon taking office, Sheriff Tucker immediately adopted the Policing Program in its entirety. In a memo to all MCSD deputies and employees dated January 3, 2012, Sheriff Tucker stated that “[t]he policies and procedures under the administration of Sheriff Toby Trowbridge shall remain in place and effective as the policies and procedures for the administration of Sheriff Randy Tucker.”⁵⁵

135. Since then, Sheriff Tucker has not only implemented the Policing Program but expanded its scope by, among other actions, enacting or maintaining a written roadblock policy that sanctions unconstitutional racially discriminatory roadblocks.

136. In essence, Sheriff Tucker has empowered MCSD deputies with enhanced authority and implicit encouragement to target the members of Madison County’s Black community for unreasonable searches and seizures.

137. One of the named Plaintiffs in this action, Mr. Blackmon, reports that the MCSD’s deputies have become even more disrespectful towards Black community members since Tucker became Sheriff. According to Mr. Blackmon, MCSD deputies now “terrorize the community like a gang would.”

⁵⁵ Memo from Sheriff Tucker to all MCSD deputies and employees (Jan. 3, 2012). The memo stated that “[v]ariations to these policies and procedures may be made at the discretion of the Sheriff.” As discussed herein, Sheriff Tucker subsequently changed a few of Sheriff Trowbridge’s policies and procedures. On information and belief, these changes were made to implement, enforce, and expand the Policing Program.

A. Sheriff Tucker Has Enacted a Written Roadblock Policy That Sanctions Unconstitutional Racially Discriminatory Roadblocks

138. Sheriff Tucker has enacted or maintained a written policy (the General Roadblocks Policy) that expressly allows MCSD deputies to “conduct random roadblocks” without specifying any restrictions on how and when MCSD deputies may conduct these roadblocks.⁵⁶

139. The General Roadblocks Policy fails to set forth any “explicit, neutral limitations on the conduct of individual officers” as required under Supreme Court precedent.⁵⁷ Notably, the policy does not require MCSD deputies to use race-neutral criteria in selecting locations for roadblocks.

140. In its entirety, the General Roadblocks Policy is only three sentences long. One of these sentences clarifies that the procedural safeguards that govern sobriety checkpoints (see below) do not apply to roadblocks. The complete text of the General Roadblocks Policy is as follows:

- a. This section allows officers to conduct random roadblocks for all traffic violations, escapees or wanted subjects.
- b. The requirements of this section shall not be confused with the policy set out above on the methods to be used for sobriety checkpoints.
- c. All Deputies may conduct general roadblocks when necessary to check for traffic violations, escapees, or wanted subjects upon the public streets, highways and right-of-ways within this county.

141. In stark contrast to his bare-bones General Roadblocks Policy, Sheriff Tucker’s policy on “sobriety checkpoints” (the “Sobriety Checkpoint Policy”) is carefully-crafted and establishes clear limits on the authority of MCSD deputies to establish such checkpoints. Among other procedural safeguards, the Sobriety Checkpoint Policy requires MCSD deputies to:

⁵⁷ City of Indianapolis v. Edmond, 531 U.S. 32, 49 (2000) (quoting Brown v. Texas, 443 U.S. 47 (1979)).

- “[s]atisfy federal, state and local requirements” in establishing and conducting sobriety checkpoints;
- “[c]onduct [sobriety] checkpoints with a minimal amount of intrusion or motorist inconvenience”;
- use “[s]pecial care” to “warn approaching motorist[s] of the sobriety checkpoint”;
- specify objective criteria for selecting which motorists to stop at any given sobriety checkpoint; and
- specify the “dialogue and educational material to be used by [sobriety] checkpoint [p]ersonnel.”⁵⁸

A copy of this Sobriety Checkpoint Policy is attached as Exhibit C.

142. On information and belief, Sheriff Tucker’s different approaches to sobriety checkpoints and “general” roadblocks reflect his racially discriminatory approach to policing the residents of Madison County. The Sobriety Checkpoint Policy is designed to protect the rights of white residents of Madison County, who may be stopped at sobriety checkpoints but who almost never encounter general roadblocks. The General Roadblocks Policy, on the other hand, is structured to give MCSD deputies complete authority to establish roadblocks targeting Black residents as and when they see fit.

143. Under color of this unconstitutionally vague and permissive General Roadblock Policy, and with the tacit support of Sheriff Tucker, MCSD deputies regularly establish illegal roadblocks to harass Black individuals in Madison County with unconstitutional searches and seizures.

⁵⁸ Sobriety Checkpoint Guidelines, in POLICY AND PROCEDURE, Office of the Sheriff, Madison County, Mississippi.

144. To the extent Defendants contend that the General Roadblocks Policy is constitutional, which it is plainly not, the MCSD has a pattern or practice of noncompliance with its own policy. As discussed herein, the MCSD conducts roadblocks for impermissible purposes unrelated to the need to “check for traffic violations, escapees, or wanted subjects.”

145. Insofar as Defendants claim that the roadblocks complained of herein are established pursuant to the Sobriety Checkpoint Policy, the MCSD has a pattern and practice of noncompliance with this policy as well.

VI. Sheriff Tucker Has Been Deliberately Indifferent to the Constitutional Violations Caused by the Policing Program

146. Sheriff Tucker has long known of the constitutional violations suffered by the Black residents of Madison County as a result of the Policing Program. On information and belief, these harms are in fact the intended purpose and result of Sheriff Tucker’s own policies, practices, and customs.

147. Sheriff Tucker has been deliberately indifferent to the constitutional violations caused by the Policing Program. Among other actions and inactions, he has: (1) on information and belief, failed to investigate a Black MCSD deputy’s complaint of racially discriminatory policing practices and the unjustified use of physical force against Black community members; (2) hired a deputy with a documented history of misconduct involving the excessive use of force; (3) chosen not to establish any rules or regulations prohibiting racial bias in policing; (4) decided not to maintain basic data on the MCSD’s policing practices or Madison County’s municipal crime statistics; and (5) stopped maintaining records of complaints against MCSD deputies.

A. On Information and Belief, Sheriff Tucker Failed to Investigate an MCSD Deputy's Claim of Unconstitutional Racially Discriminatory Policing Practices

148. In or around February 2013, one of Sheriff Tucker's own deputies, Robert Gibson, raised concerns about the MCSD's pattern of targeting the Black residents of Madison County for searches and seizures at roadblocks, as well as the MCSD's unjustified use of physical force against Black community members.

149. On information and belief, Sheriff Tucker failed to conduct any investigation into Mr. Gibson's claims of unconstitutional racially discriminatory policing practices. Instead, Sheriff Tucker terminated Mr. Gibson's employment in February 2013.

150. In August 2016, Mr. Gibson filed suit against the MCSD asserting claims of racial discrimination and retaliation.⁵⁹

151. According to the complaint, Mr. Gibson specifically expressed his "concerns about racially discriminatory practices that affected both the [MCSD] employees and the community." Mr. Gibson addressed what he found to be a pattern of "white officers using excessive force and beating black individuals" as well as the MCSD's practice of "setting up roadblocks primarily in the minority neighborhoods."⁶⁰ Mr. Gibson's claims remain pending.

⁵⁹ Jimmie E. Gates, Former Madison deputy files discrimination lawsuit, THE CLARION-LEDGER, (Aug. 31, 2016), <http://www.clarionledger.com/story/news/2016/08/31/former-madison-deputy-files-discrimination-lawsuit/89650260/>; see also Second Amended Complaint, Gibson v. Madison County at ¶¶ 37-39, No. 16 Civ. 633 (S.D. Miss. Oct. 25, 2016).

⁶⁰ See Second Amended Complaint, Gibson v. Madison County at ¶¶ 37-39, No. 16 Civ. 633 (S.D. Miss. Oct. 25, 2016). Mr. Gibson's suit was brought following a determination by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission that "the evidence obtained in the investigation established reasonable cause to believe that [Mr. Gibson] was discriminated against in violation of Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, as amended"; that "[c]reditable evidence disclosed that the [MCSD's] promotional policy and practices were not uniformly applied to both races and were subjective at best"; and that "[t]he evidence also showed that shortly after [Mr. Gibson's] protest, he was singled out for criticism and discharged." See id. at Ex. B (EEOC Determination).

B. Sheriff Tucker Hired a Deputy with a Documented History of Misconduct Involving the Excessive Use of Force

152. Sheriff Tucker not only fails to screen his deputies, but he has on at least one occasion intentionally hired a deputy with a documented history of misconduct involving the excessive use of force.

153. In 1997, Slade Moore, an officer with the Jackson Police Department, shoved an arrestee's face into a concrete floor, pressed his fingers into the arrestee's eyes, and rolled the arrestee's face back and forth across the concrete floor.⁶¹

154. The arrestee subsequently sued the City of Jackson. The Mississippi Court of Appeals held that the City of Jackson was not immune from suit because of the egregious and unreasonable nature of Deputy Moore's conduct, and awarded the arrestee $25,000 in damages.⁶²

155. The Jackson Police Department fired Moore for his "use of excessive force in arresting" the plaintiff, as well as his "history of using excessive force in making arrests."⁶³

156. Despite Moore's record of misconduct, Sheriff Tucker hired Moore as an MCSD deputy. Deputy Moore continues to serve as a member of the MCSD's force.

157. On information and belief, Deputy Moore has played an integral role in implementing the MCSD's Policing Program.

C. Sheriff Tucker Has Not Established any Rules or Regulations Prohibiting Racial Bias in Policing

158. For years, Sheriff Tucker and the MCSD have fielded complaints of racial profiling.

⁶¹ City of Jackson v. Calcote, 910 So.2d 1103, 1107-1108 (Miss. Ct. App. 2005).

⁶³ City of Jackson v. Moore, 97 So. 3d 1238, 1239-40 (Miss. Ct. App. 2012).

159. Nevertheless, Sheriff Tucker has failed to establish any rules or regulations prohibiting racial bias in policing.⁶⁴

160. On information and belief, Sheriff Tucker does not train his deputies to avoid racial bias in their policing practices; instead, he explicitly authorizes them to target Black community members.

D. Sheriff Tucker Does Not Maintain Even Basic Data on the MCSD's Policing Practices or Municipal Crime Statistics

161. Sheriff Tucker fails to maintain basic data on the MCSD's policing practices⁶⁵ or aggregated crime statistics for municipalities in Madison County.⁶⁶

162. On information and belief, Sheriff Tucker does not require MCSD deputies to keep records on the number of roadblocks established in any given week or month, the locations of these roadblocks, the number of individuals stopped at these roadblocks, the number of arrests made at each roadblock, or the race, gender, and/or age of each individual stopped and/or arrested at each roadblock.⁶⁷

⁶⁴ See ACLU Public Records Request (Sept. 15, 2016) (requesting “[a]ll policies, protocols, or training material describing how to address issues of racial bias in policing.”); see also Letter from Sheriff Tucker to the ACLU (Oct. 31, 2016) (stating that “[n]o public records exist in response to this subparagraph [requesting such policies].”)

⁶⁵ See ACLU Public Records Request (Sept. 15, 2016) (requesting data on the MCSD's roadblocks, traffic stops, and stop and frisk searches); see also Letter from Sheriff Tucker to the ACLU (Oct. 31, 2016).

⁶⁶ See ACLU Public Records Request (Mar. 3, 2017) (requesting, inter alia, “[a]ll records regarding Madison County crime rates, including but not limited to . . . the locations (including cities or neighborhood[s]) considered to be high crime areas”); see also Letter from Sheriff Tucker to the ACLU (March 14, 2017) (stating that the “only records the Madison County Sheriff's Department has regarding crime rates or crime statistics” are the Uniform Crime Reports as submitted to the Federal Bureau of Investigation).

⁶⁷ Letter from Sheriff Tucker to the ACLU (Oct. 31, 2016) (stating that “[n]o public records exist” with respect to the MCSD's roadblocks and/or checkpoints documenting their number, frequency, location, and/or duration; the number of stops initiated; the race, gender, and/or age of each individual stopped; the race, gender, and/or age of each individual whose driver's license was run against the MCSD's databases; the number of searches resulting in citations, and the reasons for these citations; the race, gender, and/or

163. On information and belief, Sheriff Tucker also does not require MCSD deputies to document traffic stops, or essential information such as whether searches were conducted or arrests were made incident to traffic stops.⁶⁸ In addition, Sheriff Tucker does not maintain any records concerning “stop and frisk” searches of pedestrians.⁶⁹

164. Moreover, Sheriff Tucker does not track aggregated crime statistics by town or neighborhood.⁷⁰ For example, on information and belief, Sheriff Tucker does not maintain statistics on the number of arrests made in majority-Black Canton as compared to majority-white Madison in any given time period.

165. On information and belief, Sheriff Tucker has chosen not to keep such data, statistics and records because they would collectively provide unmistakable proof of the existence and widespread implementation of the MCSD’s Policing Program.

E. Sheriff Tucker Has Stopped Keeping Records of Complaints Against MCSD Deputies

166. During Sheriff Trowbridge’s tenure, Section 17 of the official MCSD policy handbook stated that the Sheriff “will record all complaints” against MCSD employees “in a

age of each individual cited; the number of arrests made and for what charges; or the race, gender, and/or age of each individual arrested.)

⁶⁸ Letter from Sheriff Tucker to the ACLU (Oct. 31, 2016) (stating that “[n]o public records exist” with respect to traffic stops conducted; traffic tickets issued at these stops; traffic stops which resulted in the search of the driver’s vehicle; traffic stop searches which resulted in the recovery of contraband; and/or traffic stops which resulted in arrests.)

⁶⁹ Id. (stating that “[n]o public records exist” with respect to stops, frisks, and/or searches conducted by MCSD deputies, including the race, gender, and/or age of the individual(s) stopped; the basis for the stop; whether any search was conducted and the basis for the search; and/or whether the stop resulted in an arrest or citation, and the basis for this arrest or citation).

permanent record.”⁷¹ Section 17 included a sample “standard citizen complaint form,” and provided that each complaint report “will include” the name of the complainant, the name of the accused, the date the complaint was received, the type of complaint that was made, the internal affairs report number for the complaint, and the final disposition of the complaint.

167. Since taking office, Sheriff Tucker has, on information and belief, made it official MCSD policy not to keep track of complaints against himself, his deputies, or any other MCSD employees. By his own admission, Sheriff Tucker “no longer uses” the “standard citizen complaint form” for recording complaints.⁷² Sheriff Tucker has also expressly stated that the MCSD “does not have any public records” of complaints against himself, his deputies, or any other MCSD employees because the MCSD “does not maintain a file for these complaints.”⁷³

168. On information and belief, Sheriff Tucker has stopped maintaining records of citizen complaints in order to provide MCSD deputies with greater authority to target Black residents for unreasonable searches and seizures, with as little monitoring and oversight as possible.

⁷¹ Section 17, Investigations: Internal Affairs, in POLICIES AND PROCEDURES, Office of the Sheriff, Madison County, Mississippi, Section 17, Investigations: Internal Affairs.

⁷² Letter from Sheriff Tucker to the ACLU (May 1, 2017) (stating, inter alia, that the sample “standard citizen complaint form” is “no longer used by the [MCSD]”).

⁷³ See ACLU Public Records Request (Mar. 3, 2017), Item 1 (requesting, inter alia, “[a]ll records regarding complaints, formal or informal against any [MCSD] employees, including the Sheriff, whether or not currently employed”); Letter from Sheriff Tucker (Mar. 14, 2017) (stating, in response to Item 1, that the MCSD “does not have any public records sought in this item since it does not maintain a file for these complaints” and also stating that “any such records that are generated as the result of an internal affairs investigation are exempt as investigatory reports”).

VII. The Board of Supervisors Has Been Deliberately Indifferent to the Constitutional Violations Caused by the Policing Program

169. The Board of Supervisors serves as “the chief policy making and administrative body” of Madison County. By its own description, the Board of Supervisors is “the one body which supervises almost everything that goes on in county government.”⁷⁴

170. The Board of Supervisors is comprised of five elected Supervisors, one from each of the five districts in Madison County. “[T]ogether the members set policy” for Madison County and “are expected to look after the good of the county as a whole.”⁷⁵

171. For at least a decade, the Madison County Board of Supervisors has known that the MCSD systematically targets the Black community for unreasonable searches and seizures:

a) In 2006, the Concerned Citizens of Canton presented the Board of Supervisors with a petition bearing 664 signatures demanding an end to “frequent roadblocks in the predominantly black neighborhoods,” “the excessive force and brutality administered by police officers,” and “racial profiling.”⁷⁶

b) In July 2006, representatives of the Concerned Citizens of Canton attended a Board of Supervisors meeting to raise these concerns. Sheriff Trowbridge was present at the meeting but refused to meet with the Concerned Citizens of Canton. Significantly, Sheriff Trowbridge stated that the MCSD would not end the use of roadblocks.⁷⁷

⁷⁶ Sylvain Metz, Roadblocks questioned in Canton, THE CLARION-LEDGER (July 18, 2006), 2006 WLNR 25321982.

c) In November 2007, Sheriff Trowbridge addressed charges of racial profiling during a Board of Supervisors meeting.⁷⁸ He claimed that the MCSD did not engage in racial profiling.⁷⁹

172. The Board of Supervisors is also presumed to have knowledge of the allegations of Mr. Gibson's complaint, and the commonly-known harms suffered by the Black residents of Madison County as a result of these practices.⁸⁰

173. Although the Board of Supervisors has been aware of a pattern of constitutional violations suffered by the Black residents of Madison County, the Board of Supervisors has been deliberately indifferent to these violations. The Board of Supervisors has failed to investigate the MCSD's racially discriminatory policing practices and/or its pattern of conducting unreasonable searches and seizures, and has also failed to require the MCSD to take any actions to: (a) establish policies that prohibit racially discriminatory policing practices and/or unreasonable searches and seizures; (b) screen, train, and supervise MCSD deputies, employees, and agents to prevent MCSD personnel from employing unconstitutional racially discriminatory policing practices and/or conducting unreasonable searches and seizures; (c) monitor MCSD deputies, employees, and agents to ensure that their policing practices comply with constitutional requirements; and/or (d) discipline MCSD deputies, employees, and agents who employ racially discriminatory policing practices and/or conduct unreasonable searches and seizures.

174. This "policy of inaction" by the Madison County Board of Supervisors is the functional equivalent of a decision by Madison County itself to violate the Constitution. By failing to take any steps to investigate or remedy the MCSD's systematic targeting of Black residents for unreasonable searches and seizures, the Board of Supervisors has implicitly sanctioned and endorsed the Policing Program.

⁷⁹ Crisp, supra note 42.

⁸⁰ See supra ¶¶ 148 through 151.

VIII. The Policing Program Has Caused Thousands of Constitutional Violations

175. The MCSD's systematic targeting of Black community members for unreasonable searches and seizures has resulted in thousands of violations of the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments of the United States Constitution. The Policing Program is "unquestionably . . . the moving force" behind these constitutional violations within the meaning of the Supreme Court's decision in Monell, 436 U.S. 658.

176. Sheriff Tucker has adopted, enforced, and expanded the Policing Program. Madison County, by and through its Board of Supervisors, has been deliberately indifferent to the pattern of constitutional violations that the Policing Program has caused. There can be no question that the Policing Program is the official—but unwritten—policy, practice, and/or custom of both Sheriff Tucker and Madison County.

177. Without the declaratory and injunctive relief sought herein, thousands of Black individuals in Madison County will continue to be subjected to unconstitutional racially discriminatory policing practices pursuant to the Policing Program.

ALLEGATIONS OF CLASS REPRESENTATIVES

178. Each of the named Plaintiffs has suffered egregious constitutional violations as a direct result of the MCSD's Policing Program. Most of the named Plaintiffs have been targeted by the MCSD for unreasonable race-based searches and seizures at multiple times and in multiple ways.

179. The events described below demonstrate that the Policing Program is pervasive, widespread, and has the force of law. These events also illustrate the extremely high likelihood that the named Plaintiffs will be subject to unreasonable race-based searches and seizures by the MCSD in the future.

180. Named Plaintiffs assert, however, that only those events occurring within the past three years entitle them to legal and equitable relief.

Latoya Brown

181. Ms. Brown is a 28-year old Black woman who has spent her entire life in Canton, Mississippi. She lives with named Plaintiff Steven Smith and their three daughters in a predominantly-Black affordable housing complex. Ms. Brown is a stay-at-home mother.

182. In the past three years, Ms. Brown has been stopped repeatedly at the MCSD's pedestrian "checkpoints" and roadblocks. She was also once detained during a suspicionless pedestrian stop.

a. Pedestrian "Checkpoints"

183. Ms. Brown has been detained at the MCSD's pedestrian "checkpoints" while entering and exiting her own home on at least three occasions in the last three years. The "checkpoints" have typically been located at the only access point to her housing complex.

184. Each time Ms. Brown has been stopped, she has been required to provide the MCSD deputy with her identification.

b. Suspicionless Pedestrian Stop

185. In the summer of 2014, an MCSD deputy detained Ms. Brown while she was walking on the sidewalk in or around the predominantly-Black affordable housing complex where she resides. Ms. Brown was on her way to work at the time.

186. The MCSD deputy had no reasonable suspicion, but demanded to see Ms. Brown's identification and find out where she was going.

187. The deputy detained Ms. Brown for approximately ten minutes before allowing her to proceed.

c. Roadblocks

188. In the past three years, Ms. Brown has been stopped at the MCSD's roadblocks multiple times while she was a passenger in someone else's vehicle.

189. At each roadblock stop, Ms. Brown has been required to provide the MCSD deputy with her identification.

190. Ms. Brown is at risk that the MCSD's deputies will again stop her without reasonable suspicion at a pedestrian "checkpoint," on the street, or at a roadblock.

Lawrence Blackmon

191. Mr. Blackmon is a 31-year-old Black man who has resided in Canton, Mississippi since 1998. Mr. Blackmon is currently enrolled in a Masters of Law program at George Washington University Law School in Washington D.C., but his permanent place of residence is at his grandmother's home. Mr. Blackmon intends to return to Madison County on a full-time basis after completing his studies.

192. MCSD deputies held Mr. Blackmon at gunpoint while they conducted a search of his home slightly over one year ago. The deputies claimed to have a warrant, but refused to provide Mr. Blackmon with an opportunity to review it. Mr. Blackmon has also been stopped at roadblocks in Canton multiple times in the past three years. These incidents are described in further detail below.

a. Home Search; Use of Force

193. Slightly over one year ago, Mr. Blackmon was at his home in Canton when he heard a banging at the front door. He opened the door to find two MCSD deputies who claimed to have a warrant for the arrest of one of Mr. Blackmon's relatives. Mr. Blackmon's cousin was not in the house at the time.

194. Mr. Blackmon asked the deputies to show him the warrant. When the deputies refused to provide him with an opportunity to review the warrant, Mr. Blackmon did not allow the deputies to enter.

195. The MCSD deputies then began kicking on the door and shouted that if Mr. Blackmon did not let them in, they would break down the door. Concerned that the MCSD deputies would damage the house, Mr. Blackmon opened the door. The door is still dented from the deputies' efforts to kick it in.

196. The two MCSD deputies entered Mr. Blackmon's home with their weapons drawn. One deputy immediately pointed his gun at Mr. Blackmon, forced Mr. Blackmon to the ground, and handcuffed his wrists behind his back.

197. The MCSD deputies then proceeded to search Mr. Blackmon's entire residence, ostensibly for the purpose of finding Mr. Blackmon's relative. The MCSD deputies searched inside dresser drawers and other closed compartments that could not possibly conceal an adult man.

198. Finding nothing, the deputies attempted to uncuff Mr. Blackmon. However, they could not release him because they did not have the correct key for the handcuffs. The deputies then had to call another deputy to locate the key. Mr. Blackmon remained handcuffed for an additional fifteen minutes until the deputies obtained the proper key to unlock the handcuffs.

199. Eventually, the deputies uncuffed Mr. Blackmon and left his home.

200. Mr. Blackmon is at risk that the MCSD's deputies will again enter and search his home unlawfully once he returns to Canton.

b. Roadblocks

201. During the past three years, Mr. Blackmon has been stopped at roadblocks multiple times near his home in Canton.

202. In Mr. Blackmon's experience, MCSD deputies sometimes stop all vehicles passing through a roadblock. At other times, MCSD deputies only stop certain vehicles.

203. Mr. Blackmon travels frequently throughout Canton, which is divided by railroad tracks. On one-side of the tracks is the impoverished and majority-Black section of Canton; on the other side is the more affluent section of Canton where most of Canton's white citizens live. Mr. Blackmon has never seen a roadblock on the "other side of the tracks" in Canton.

204. Mr. Blackmon is at risk that the MCSD's deputies will again stop him at a roadblock without reasonable suspicion when he visits or returns to live in Canton.

Herbert Anthony Green

205. Mr. Green is a 30-year-old Black man, and a veteran of the United States Army. He currently resides in Canton, where he has spent most of his life. Mr. Green currently works at a local Chinese restaurant.

206. Within the past three years, Mr. Green has been subjected to a suspicionless search by a "Jump Out" patrol. This incident is described below.

a. “Jump Out” Patrol

207. In October 2015, Mr. Green was walking with two Black male friends when an unmarked MCSD vehicle drove close to them. A plainclothes MCSD deputy rapidly exited the vehicle and stopped both men.

208. The MCSD deputy proceeded to search Mr. Green and his friends, even though there was no reasonable suspicion to do so.

209. The deputy released Mr. Green and his friends after finding no illegal drugs or other grounds for the arrest.

Khadafy and Quinnetta Manning

210. Mr. and Mrs. Manning live in Canton, Mississippi. Mr. Manning is 35 years old. He suffers from a painful nerve condition that makes it difficult for him to walk without a cane. Mrs. Manning is 29 years old. Together they are raising three young sons.

211. Last June, six MCSD deputies stormed into the Manning family’s home demanding that they execute false witness statements. One of the MCSD deputies severely beat Mr. Manning and threatened him with jail time for his refusal to write a statement. A few months ago, Mr. Manning was falsely arrested by an MCSD deputy in retaliation for Mr. Manning’s efforts to seek legal redress for the injuries he suffered during the June 2016 incident. These events are described in further detail below.

a. Home Invasion; Use of Force

212. On June 26, 2016, at approximately 7 am in the morning, Mrs. Manning heard a loud banging on her front door. Mrs. Manning asked who was at the door at least twice before she heard a male voice answer that it was “the police.”

213. Mrs. Manning opened the door slightly and saw six white male MCSD deputies standing at her doorstep. She asked the deputies what questions they had for her. MCSD Deputy John Doe #1 (Deputy #1) asked, with no basis or justification: “Oh, y’all smoking weed in there?” Mrs. Manning responded that she did not smoke marijuana or use other illegal drugs. Disregarding her response, Deputy #1 pushed past Mrs. Manning and barged into the Mannings’ home without any mention of a search warrant. The other deputies followed.

214. None of the deputies inquired about or searched for illegal drugs once they were inside the Mannings’ family home.

215. The Mannings’ three sons—the youngest of whom was then only five years old—were all at home that morning, as was the Mannings’ eighteen-year-old niece.

216. Upon entering the Manning family’s home, Deputy #1 shouted: “I know y’all seen what went on downstairs, so are you going to be witnesses or are you going to be suspects?”

217. Mrs. Manning surmised that Deputy #1 was referring to a dispute between her neighbor and her neighbor’s boyfriend (the “boyfriend”) that had taken place earlier that morning. Mrs. Manning realized that the deputies were trying to find a basis for charging the boyfriend with a property crime—even though Mrs. Manning had not witnessed any such crime.

218. Deputy #1 demanded that Mrs. Manning write a witness statement confirming that she had seen the boyfriend reach his hand through the broken window of her neighbor’s apartment. Mrs. Manning attempted to tell the deputy that she had only seen the boyfriend removing pieces of broken glass from her neighbor’s apartment window. Mrs. Manning told Deputy #1 that she had not seen the boyfriend reach his hand through the broken window.

219. Deputy #1 told Mrs. Manning that he “knew” she had seen the boyfriend reaching into her neighbor’s window, and told Mrs. Manning to “stop lying to us.” The deputy repeatedly told Mrs. Manning that she could either write the witness statement he demanded, or she could be treated as a suspect herself.

220. At around this time, Mr. Manning—who had just woken up—hobbled out of his bedroom wearing only his underwear. Mr. Manning told his wife that she did not have to provide the deputies with the false witness statement they requested. Mr. Manning told the deputies that he “knew his rights.”

221. The deputies then flew into a rage. One of the MCSD deputies (“Deputy #2”) grabbed Mrs. Manning by the arm, while Deputy #1 dragged Mr. Manning across the room and put him in handcuffs. Deputy #1 started cursing at Mr. Manning, and told him that he had “smart ass mouth.” Deputy #1 then proceeded to choke Mr. Manning with both of his hands.

Terrified, Mrs. Manning began recording the incident on her cellular phone.

222. When Deputy #1 finally stopped choking Mr. Manning, he started to shout that he would jail the Mannings if they refused to write the witness statements he wanted.

223. The Mannings tried to tell Deputy #1 that Mr. Manning is physically disabled. From that point forward, Deputy #1 referred to Mr. Manning as “Crip” or “Mr. Cripple.”

224. Deputy #1 then demanded to see identification for Mr. Manning, who was still in handcuffs. (Mrs. Manning was also compelled to provide her identification to one of the deputies during the incident.) When Mrs. Manning went to her bedroom to get Mr. Manning’s identification, she left her phone on the counter. One of the deputies (“Deputy #3”) then stood in front of the counter to prevent Mrs. Manning from retrieving her phone.

225. Deputy #1 informed Mrs. Manning that if she did not write the witness statement he requested, he would jail Mr. Manning and set his bond at $50,000—a sum that the Mannings would never be able to pay. A petrified Mrs. Manning finally said that she would write whatever witness statement the deputies wanted.

226. Deputy #1 then told Mrs. Manning that he was going to take her husband to jail anyway, and started hauling Mr. Manning towards the front door. Mrs. Manning pleaded with Deputy #1 to at least allow her to give Mr. Manning his cane, pants, and shoes, since her husband was still wearing nothing but his underpants. Deputy #1 refused, and told Mrs. Manning that there was no need for clothes since Mr. Manning would get a jumpsuit at jail.

227. As Deputy #1 headed out of the doorway with Mr. Manning in tow, Mrs. Manning managed to grab her cellphone from the counter and begin recording the incident again. One of the deputies knocked the phone out of Mrs. Manning's hand, and a third deputy physically blocked Mrs. Manning from following Deputy #1 outside.

228. Several of the Mannings' neighbors heard the commotion and rushed outside to see what was happening. These neighbors shouted to Deputy #1 that Mr. Manning could not move as quickly as he was being dragged due to his disability. The Mannings' neighbors also tried to tell Deputy #1 that Mr. Manning had no involvement with that morning's burglary. Deputy #1 ignored the neighbors and shoved Mr. Manning into his vehicle.

229. Mr. Manning was humiliated that his neighbors saw him being forcibly taken out of his family's home while wearing only his underwear.

230. One of the deputies who was still in the Manning family home asked Deputy #1 what he should do with Mrs. Manning. Deputy #1 said that Mrs. Manning could either "write a statement or go to County." Knowing that she could not leave her children alone, with both of their parents in jail, Mrs. Manning scribbled out the witness statement the deputies demanded. She can hardly remember what she wrote.

231. Once Mr. Manning was inside the deputy's vehicle, Deputy #1 hit Mr. Manning's head repeatedly with his fists, and struck him multiple times in the chest with a hard, black object that Mr. Manning could not identify. Mr. Manning was in so much pain that he finally agreed, while weeping, to write a witness statement incriminating the boyfriend. Still, Deputy #1 continued beating Mr. Manning. Deputy #1 told Mr. Manning that his wife would be better off with him dead.

232. Finally, after what seemed like an eternity to Mr. Manning, Deputy #1 uncuffed him. Mr. Manning then wrote a statement with his hands shaking and tears rolling down his face. Only when the statement was complete did Deputy #1 release Mr. Manning, who then stumbled barefoot in his underwear back into his home as his neighbors watched.

233. Mr. Manning's face was swollen and bruised from the assault, and his wrists were cut and black and blue from the tight handcuffs. He went to the hospital to seek medical treatment the following day. Hospital records show that Mr. Manning suffered both a sprained wrist and chest contusions.

234. Mr. Manning continues to feel deep shame at his inability to protect his family, as well as his public humiliation in full view of his neighbors. He still experiences intense feelings of sadness and depression about the incident.

235. Mrs. Manning was extremely shaken up by the incident. She is very scared of what might happen the next time she is stopped at one of the many roadblocks and "checkpoints" that the MCSD regularly sets up in and around the predominantly-Black affordable housing complex where she resides.

236. Both Mr. Manning and Mrs. Manning are at risk that the MCSD's deputies will again illegally enter their family home and detain them without reasonable suspicion.

b. Baseless Arrest; Retaliation

237. On February 14, 2017, a deputy threatened Mr. Manning while Mr. Manning was talking with a neighbor in the parking lot of his family's apartment complex. The deputy told Mr. Manning that he "knew" Mr. Manning had been "causing trouble" by "having people come around here asking questions."

238. The deputy handcuffed Mr. Manning and restrained him in the backseat of the deputy's vehicle. The deputy then searched Mr. Manning's vehicle, which was parked in the lot. Finding nothing objectionable in the vehicle, the deputy charged Mr. Manning with driving while his license was suspended.

Marvin McField

239. Mr. McField is a 37-year-old Black man who was born, raised, and currently resides in Flora. Mr. McField has a pacemaker because he suffers from a serious heart condition. Mr. McField is a carpenter. He is married with children.

240. Several years ago, during a routine roadblock stop, Mr. McField was searched, beaten until he could not breathe, and incarcerated for nineteen days without ever being charged with a crime.

241. Ever since that incident, Mr. McField has been deeply afraid of encounters with the MCSD's deputies. He does everything he can to avoid passing through roadblocks.

242. Despite these efforts, Mr. McField has been stopped at roadblocks several times within the past three years. He was also pulled over in a suspicionless traffic stop after attempting to circumvent a roadblock. These incidents are described in more detail below.

243. Mr. McField wants the MCSD to change its policing practices because he does not ever want his young children to suffer the way that he has.

a. Roadblocks; Use of Force; Incarceration without Charge or Due Process

244. Within the past three or four years, Mr. McField was detained at a roadblock while driving his brand new Chevy Cobalt.

245. The MCSD deputies manning the roadblock asked Mr. McField to pull over. There were approximately six or seven male deputies, all but one of whom was white.

246. One of the deputies said to Mr. McField "You a baller, ain't you?" On information and belief, the deputy was referring to the fact that Mr. McField was driving a new car.

247. The MCSD deputies told Mr. McField to exit the vehicle. When Mr. McField got out of his car, the deputies handcuffed his hands behind his back and searched his person, including his pockets. The deputies then lifted Mr. McField up and threw him onto the hood of the Chevy Cobalt. Because it was a warm summer day, the hood was extremely hot. Mr. McField protested that there was no need for the deputies to treat him this way.

248. A few minutes later, the deputies pulled Mr. McField off the hood of the Chevy Cobalt, shoved Mr. McField into one of the deputies' vehicles, and locked the doors. The deputies left Mr. McField trapped in the stifling heat of the confined car with the windows rolled up for 15 to 20 minutes.

249. The deputies then got into the vehicle and drove off, with Mr. McField still in the backseat. After a few minutes of driving, the deputies pulled over and yanked Mr. McField out of the backseat by his legs. They then began beating him in the chest. The beating continued until Mr. McField told the deputies that he could not breathe.

250. The deputies then forced Mr. McField back into their vehicle, and took him to the Madison County Detention Center, where the deputies beat him again—this time hitting him in the head instead of in his chest.

251. Mr. McField was held in the Madison County Detention Center for more than two weeks without being charged with any crime. During this time, he was not permitted to make any phone calls or let anyone know of his whereabouts. After nineteen days, Mr. McField was brought before a judge without any legal counsel. Mr. McField was informed that he had served his time, and was subsequently released.

252. Mr. McField has since lived in fear that he will again be stopped at one of the MCSD's roadblocks. He does everything in his power to avoid having to pass through these roadblocks. However, steering clear of roadblocks is no easy task because the MCSD establishes roadblocks throughout the minority neighborhoods of Flora, where Mr. McField resides, multiple times a week.

253. In the course of the past three years, Mr. McField has been stopped at roadblocks on several occasions. Each time, Mr. McField has been gripped with fear that he may be beaten or incarcerated by the MCSD's deputies.

254. Mr. McField is at risk that the MCSD's deputies will again stop him at a roadblock without reasonable suspicion.

b. Suspicionless Traffic Stop

255. Approximately two years ago, Mr. McField was pulled over by MCSD deputies while he was driving home in his cousin's car with three of his relatives, all of whom were also Black men. It was about 1 am in the morning. Mr. McField was not speeding, and there was no reasonable suspicion or probable cause for the MCSD deputies to stop Mr. McField

256. One of the MCSD deputies asked Mr. McField for his driver's license. Mr. McField responded that he did not have his license with him, but provided the deputy with his Social Security number. The deputy then instructed Mr. McField and his passengers to exit the vehicle.

257. One of the deputies handcuffed Mr. McField and searched his pockets. The deputy then put Mr. McField in the backseat of his patrol car.

258. Mr. McField's passengers later told him that while he was in the patrol car, the deputies asked the passengers for their identification. The deputies also inquired whether there were any illegal drugs in the vehicle. The passengers said no. The deputies then searched Mr. McField's cousin's vehicle and did not find any illegal drugs.

259. After running everyone's identifications against police databases, the MCSD deputies released Mr. McField and his passengers.

260. Mr. McField is at risk that the MCSD's deputies will again pull him over while he is driving without reasonable suspicion.

Nick Singleton

261. Nick Singleton is a 35-year-old Black man who has lived in Canton, Mississippi since 2004. Until recently, Mr. Singleton worked in information technology at a data center. He is the father of two young boys.

262. In the past three years, Mr. Singleton has repeatedly been stopped at the MCSD's roadblocks, as described below.

263. Several years ago, Mr. Singleton was subjected to a warrantless and consentless home search by then-Deputy Tucker and other MCSD deputies just minutes after Deputy Tucker personally delivered a package to Mr. Singleton's home. The package was addressed to a relative who did not reside with Mr. Singleton. As soon as Mr. Singleton's brother-in-law picked up the package and brought it inside, a team of MCSD deputies—including then-Deputy Tucker—stormed into Mr. Singleton's home. They forced Mr. Singleton, his brother-in-law, and his sister to lay on the floor while they searched the family home. Mr. Singleton's son, who was then only three years old, was present in the home at the time. When Mr. Singleton's sister asked then-Deputy Tucker whether they had a search warrant, Tucker pointed to the box and said: "I don't need a search warrant. That box is my search warrant."

a. Roadblocks

264. Mr. Singleton lives on a quiet residential street in a majority-Black neighborhood in Canton. MCSD deputies regularly establish roadblocks on the intersection right outside of his home, particularly on holidays.

265. In the last year alone, Mr. Singleton has been stopped at the MCSD's roadblocks a minimum of 20 times. He has been detained at dozens of roadblocks without reasonable suspicion in the past three years.

266. On numerous occasions he has seen MCSD deputies set up a roadblock at one location and then move it down the street to a different corner. Mr. Singleton has often been required to show his license and insurance to the same MCSD deputy twice in the same day while driving through these "roving" roadblocks.

267. Mr. Singleton often spends time in majority-white areas of Madison County. He has never seen a roadblock in these predominantly white neighborhoods.

268. Mr. Singleton is at risk that the MCSD's deputies will again stop him at a roadblock without reasonable suspicion.

Steven Smith

269. Mr. Smith is a 27-year-old Black man who has spent his entire life in Canton, Mississippi. He lives with named Plaintiff Ms. Brown and their three young daughters in a predominantly-Black affordable housing complex. Mr. Smith currently works at a Chinese restaurant as a wok cook.

270. During the past three years, Mr. Smith has been arrested and incarcerated following a suspicionless stop at a pedestrian “checkpoint” outside of his own apartment complex. He has also been subject to a warrantless and suspicionless search of his home. These incidents are described below.

a. Pedestrian “Checkpoint”

271. In January 2017, Mr. Smith was stopped at a pedestrian “checkpoint” as he was walking into the predominantly-Black affordable housing complex where he resides.

272. The MCSD deputies demanded to see Mr. Smith’s identification, and searched his person. On information and belief, the deputies had no reasonable suspicion or probable cause to search him.

273. Mr. Smith was arrested after a check of his identification revealed that he had overdue fines and court fees. Because he could not afford to pay the County, Mr. Smith was subsequently incarcerated for 29 days at the Madison County Detention Center.

274. During this time, Mr. Smith could not go to work. The lost income was an economic hardship for his family, particularly because his partner, named Plaintiff Ms. Brown, is a stay-at-home mother who cares for their young daughters.

275. Mr. Smith is at risk that the MCSD’s deputies will again stop him at a pedestrian “checkpoint” without reasonable suspicion.

b. Home Search

276. On the evening of October 31, 2015, two MCSD deputies came to Mr. Smith's door after midnight and demanded to be let inside.

277. The deputies claimed they were searching for a missing person, but they did not provide Mr. Smith with a warrant.

278. Mr. Smith told the deputies that they did not have his permission to enter his home. Over Mr. Smith's objections, the deputies pushed right past Mr. Smith and proceeded to search his apartment.

279. The deputies conducted a thorough search of Mr. Smith's home, including examining inside bureau drawers and other small closed compartments that could not reasonably contain a person.

280. One of the deputies even woke up Mr. Smith's daughter, who was only three years old at the time, to ask her if she knew anything about the missing person.

281. Mr. Smith is at risk that the MCSD's deputies will again enter and search his home unlawfully.

Bessie Thomas

282. Mrs. Thomas is a 59-year-old Black woman who has lived in Canton, Mississippi for the last five decades. Mrs. Thomas serves as a minister at two local churches, and she is involved in taking care of her young grandchildren. For three years, Mrs. Thomas operated a corner store in Canton.

283. Within the past three years, Mrs. Thomas has been subjected to a warrantless and consentless home invasion. She has also been stopped at the MCSD's roadblocks multiple times. These incidents are described below.

284. In Mrs. Thomas's experience, MCSD deputies inflict violence rather than protect Black community members from violence. On several occasions, Mrs. Thomas called the MCSD for help after break-ins at her corner store in which thieves took almost all of her inventory. Following a break-in that took place in October 2016, one MCSD deputy told Mrs. Thomas: "If they break in, just shoot them." Mrs. Thomas ultimately had no choice but to shut down the store later that year.

a. Home Invasion

285. In the summer of 2014, Mrs. Thomas was sitting outside her home, under the carport, when two MCSD deputies pulled in, ran right past her and began kicking in the door to the carport, which was unlocked. Mrs. Thomas attempted to ask the deputies why they were there, but they continued to kick in the door until the door frame split apart and the door opened. The MCSD deputies then barged into Mrs. Thomas's home and arrested her son. The deputies never showed Mrs. Thomas a warrant.

286. The entire length of the frame of Mrs. Thomas's carport door still remains cracked as a result of the MCSD's forcible entry, despite attempts to repair it.

b. Roadblocks

287. Mrs. Thomas has been detained at roadblocks in Canton a number of times during the last three years.

288. In Mrs. Thomas's experience, "the roadblocks end where the white people start" at the east end of Canton. Mrs. Thomas has frequently encountered roadblocks on King Ranch Road, a predominantly-Black area.

289. Mrs. Thomas feels demeaned and degraded every time she has to pass through a roadblock because she believes that this is something only Black residents of Madison County are forced to do.

290. Mrs. Thomas is at risk that the MCSD's deputies will again stop her at a roadblock without reasonable suspicion.

Betty Jean Williams Tucker

291. Mrs. Tucker is a 62-year-old Black woman who was born, raised, and currently resides in Canton, Mississippi. For over a decade, Mrs. Tucker worked as a welder in a Canton manufacturing warehouse. She has five children, twelve grandchildren, and two great grandchildren. Mrs. Tucker is among the longest-lived residents in her Canton neighborhood.

292. During the past three years, Mrs. Tucker has been stopped several times at the MCSD's roadblocks. These incidents are described below.

293. About three or four years ago, Mrs. Tucker was hosting a celebratory barbeque when two plainclothes deputies pulled up in an unmarked vehicle. Without a warrant or Mrs. Tucker's consent, the deputies walked right into Mrs. Tucker's yard and began searching every person at the party, right down to the contents of their pockets. Finding nothing, the MCSD deputies also got down on their hands and knees to search Mrs. Tucker's patio. They eventually left without any explanation.

294. About five years ago, Mrs. Tucker was in her front yard when she saw a "Jump Out" patrol target her teenage grandson, who lived across the street. Her grandson had been fixing his brother's bicycle in his own front yard. It was a hot day, and her grandson was shirtless. All of a sudden, an unmarked truck went speeding towards Mrs. Tucker's grandson, and out jumped two white plainclothes deputies. The deputies tackled her grandson to the ground and began aggressively searching through his pockets. Petrified, Mrs. Tucker shouted to the deputies that he was her grandson and asked what he had done wrong. The deputies abruptly got up after finding nothing in her grandson's pockets. As they went back to their truck, one of the deputies said to Mrs. Tucker: "Tell your grandson to wear a shirt next time."

a. Roadblocks

295. Mrs. Tucker has a valid license, registration, and insurance. Nevertheless, because of her prior experiences with the MCSD, she devotes a great deal of time and effort to finding out the locations of the MCSD's roadblocks through phone calling trees, Facebook pages, smart phone apps, and texting lists. Mrs. Tucker often rearranges her life to avoid the MCSD's roadblocks, typically by cancelling her plans and not leaving the house to see family or friends.

296. Despite these extensive efforts, Mrs. Tucker was still subjected to two roadblock stops over the past two years. During both stops, Mrs. Tucker was required to provide her license and her passengers were required to provide their identifications before the deputies allowed Mrs. Tucker and her passengers to proceed. Each stop delayed her by approximately ten minutes.

297. In Mrs. Tucker's decades of living and traveling in Madison County, she has rarely—if ever—seen a roadblock in a predominantly-white neighborhood. She has also found that roadblocks typically take place on low-traffic streets where accidents rarely occur. She has also observed a pattern of increased roadblock activity during major events in the Black community, such as Martin Luther King Jr. weekend. Mrs. Tucker feels that the MCSD's roadblocks have become more frequent since Randy Tucker became Sheriff.

298. Mrs. Tucker is at risk that the MCSD's deputies will again stop her at a roadblock without reasonable suspicion.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

299. Plaintiffs seek to bring this action on their own behalf and on behalf of a class of those similarly situated pursuant to Rule 23(a) and (b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

300. The proposed Class is defined as: “People who (1) are, or who appear to be, Black and those in their company, and (2) were, are, or will be in Madison County, and (3) were, are, or will be, subject to the MCSD’s policy, custom, and/or practice of systematically executing unreasonable searches and seizures of persons, homes, cars, and property on the basis of race.”

301. The Class meets all of the requirements of Rule 23(a) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

302. The members of the Class are so numerous as to render joinder impracticable. Although the exact size of the class is unknown, as of the 2010 census, over 36,000 Black persons reside in Madison County.⁸¹ The unlawful law enforcement activities described herein, and the resulting violations of Black individuals’ constitutional rights, have occurred, and will continue to occur, on a routine basis and for the foreseeable future unless such conduct is enjoined by this Court.

303. In addition, joinder is impracticable because, upon information and belief, many members of the Class are not aware of the fact that their constitutional rights have been violated and that they have the right to seek redress in court. Many members of the Class are without the means to retain an attorney to represent them in a civil rights lawsuit. Moreover, many Class members who have been victimized by Defendants’ unconstitutional practices do not bring individual claims for fear of retaliation and reprisals by Defendants and their agents. There is no appropriate avenue for protection of the Class members' constitutional rights other than a class action.

304. The Class members share a number of questions of law and fact in common, including, but not limited to: whether the MCSD has a policy, practice, and/or custom of targeting members of the Class for unreasonable searches and seizures on the basis of race in violation of both the Fourth Amendment and the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

305. The named Plaintiffs' claims are typical of those of the Class. Like the other members of the Class, the named Plaintiffs have been and likely will again be victims of Defendants' policy, practice, and/or custom of conducting unreasonable searches and seizures on the basis of race in violation of the Fourth Amendment and the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

306. The legal theories under which the named Plaintiffs seek declaratory and injunctive relief are the same or similar to those on which all members of the Class will rely, and the harms suffered by the named Plaintiffs are typical of the harms suffered by the Class members.

307. The named Plaintiffs have a strong personal interest in the outcome of this action, have no conflicts of interest with members of the Plaintiff Class, and will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class. The named Plaintiffs are all current or former Black residents of Madison County or nearby areas who continue to reside in, have their permanent place of residence in, travel to and in, and/or intend in the near future to reside in, Madison County. As long as the MCSD continues to implement the policy, practice, and/or custom described herein, the named Plaintiffs will remain at substantial risk of suffering constitutional violations as a result of the conduct of MCSD personnel. The named Plaintiffs are seeking compensatory and punitive damages only on an individual basis.

308. The named Plaintiffs are represented by the American Civil Liberties Union of Mississippi, the American Civil Liberties Union Foundation, and by the law firm Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP. Counsel for the Plaintiffs have the resources, expertise, and experience to prosecute this action. Counsel for the Plaintiffs know of no conflicts among members of the Class or between the attorneys and members of the Class.

309. The Plaintiff Class should be certified pursuant to Rule 23(b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure because Defendants have acted on grounds generally applicable to the Class, thereby making Class-wide declaratory and injunctive relief appropriate.

CAUSES OF ACTION

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Claims of Named Plaintiffs and Class Members Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 Against All Defendants for Violations of the Fourth Amendment)

310. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege paragraphs 1 through 309 above as if fully set forth herein.

311. Defendants Sheriff Tucker and the County have implemented, enforced, encouraged, and sanctioned a policy, practice, and/or custom of conducting unreasonable searches and seizures of County residents in the absence of reasonable suspicion and/or probable cause. These constitutional abuses are at times accompanied by the use of excessive force.

312. The MCSD's constitutional abuses and violations were and are directly and proximately caused by policies, practices, and/or customs devised, implemented, enforced, encouraged, and sanctioned by the County and Sheriff Tucker, including: (a) the failure to adequately and properly screen, train, and supervise MCSD personnel; (b) the failure to adequately and properly monitor and discipline MCSD personnel; and (c) the overt and tacit encouragement and sanctioning of, and the failure to rectify, the MCSD's practice of conducting unconstitutional searches and seizures.

313. Each of the Defendants has acted with deliberate indifference to the Fourth Amendment rights of the named Plaintiffs and other members of the Class. As a direct and proximate result of the acts and omissions of each of the Defendants, the Fourth Amendment rights of the named Plaintiffs and other Class members have been violated. By acting under color of state law to deprive the named Plaintiffs and other Class members of their rights under the Fourth Amendment, Defendants have violated 42 U.S.C. § 1983, which prohibits the deprivation under color of state law of rights secured under the United States Constitution.

314. The MCSD targets individuals for suspicionless and otherwise unjustified detentions, frisks, searches, and arrests in areas where Plaintiffs reside and/or visit. Thus, a real and immediate threat exists that the Fourth Amendment rights of the named Plaintiffs and other Class members will be violated by MCSD personnel in the immediate future. Moreover, because Defendants' policies, practices, and/or customs subject the named Plaintiffs and other Class members to suspicionless and otherwise unjustified detentions, frisks, searches, and arrests without any reasonable, articulable suspicion of criminality, and on the basis of their race, the named Plaintiffs and other Class members cannot alter their behavior to avoid future violations of their constitutional and civil rights by the MCSD.

315. The named Plaintiffs and other members of the Class have no adequate remedy at law and will suffer serious and irreparable harm to their constitutional rights unless Defendants are enjoined from continuing the MCSD's policy, practice, and/or custom of conducting unreasonable searches and seizures of persons, homes, cars, and property on the basis of race, with the concomitant use of excessive force.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Claims of Named Plaintiffs and Class Members Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 Against All Defendants for Violations of the Equal Protection Clause)

316. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege paragraphs 1 through 315 above as if fully set forth herein.

317. Defendants Sheriff Tucker and the County have implemented, enforced, encouraged, and sanctioned a policy, practice, and/or custom of targeting the named Plaintiffs and members of the Plaintiff Class for unreasonable searches and seizures on the basis of their race, which violates the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. The MCSD's constitutional abuses and violations were and are directly and proximately caused by policies, practices, and/or customs devised, implemented, enforced, encouraged, and sanctioned by the County and Sheriff Tucker, including: (a) the failure to adequately and properly screen, train, and supervise MCSD personnel; (b) the failure to adequately and properly monitor and discipline MCSD personnel; and (c) the overt and tacit encouragement and sanctioning of, and the failure to rectify, the MCSD's use of racial profiling to target Black individuals for unconstitutional searches and seizures through its Policing Program.

318. Each of the Defendants has acted with deliberate indifference to the Fourteenth Amendment rights of the named Plaintiffs and other members of the Class. As a direct and proximate result of the acts and omissions of each of the Defendants, the Fourteenth Amendment rights of the named Plaintiffs and other Class members have been violated. By acting under color of state law to deprive the named Plaintiffs and other Class members of their rights under the Fourteenth Amendment, Defendants have violated 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

319. The MCSD targets Black persons in areas where the named Plaintiffs and other Class members reside and/or visit. As a result, a real and immediate threat exists that the Fourteenth Amendment rights of the named Plaintiffs and other Class members will be violated by MCSD personnel in the immediate future. Moreover, because Defendants' policies, practices, and/or customs subject the named Plaintiffs and other Class members to unreasonable detentions, frisks, searches, and arrests without any reasonable, articulable suspicion of criminality, and on the basis of their race, the named Plaintiffs and other Class members cannot alter their behavior to avoid future violations of their constitutional and civil rights by the MCSD.

320. The named Plaintiffs and other members of the Class have no adequate remedy at law and will suffer serious and irreparable harm to their constitutional rights unless Defendants are enjoined from continuing the MCSD's policy, practice, and/or custom of conducting unreasonable searches and seizures of persons, homes, cars, and property on the basis of race, with the concomitant use of excessive force.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Claims of Named Plaintiffs and Class Members Pursuant to Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. § 2000(d), et seq., Against the County)

321. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege paragraphs 1 through 320 above as if fully set forth herein.

322. The law enforcement activities described in this Complaint have been funded, in part, with federal funds.

323. Discrimination based on race in law enforcement activities and other conduct described herein is prohibited under 42 U.S.C. § 2000(d), et seq. The acts and conduct of the Defendants complained of herein were motivated by racial animus, and were intended to discriminate on the basis of race and/or had a disparate impact on minorities, namely Black residents of and visitors to the County.

324. As a direct and proximate cause of the above mentioned acts, the named Plaintiffs and members of the Class have suffered injuries and damages and have been deprived of their rights under the Civil Rights Act. Without appropriate injunctive relief, these violations will continue to occur.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Individual Claims of Khadafy Manning Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 Against John Does #1 through #6)

325. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege paragraphs 1 through 324 above as if fully set forth herein.

326. The conduct of John Does #1 through #6 on June 16, 2016 in unlawfully and forcibly entering Mr. Manning's home; unlawfully seizing, handcuffing, choking, dragging, and beating Mr. Manning; and unlawfully compelling Mr. Manning to write a false witness statement under threat of criminal punishment, was conduct performed entirely under color of law, absent reasonable suspicion of criminality or other constitutionally-required grounds, and on the basis of Mr. Manning's race. The warrantless and consentless entry into the home of; the seizure, which amounted to an arrest of; and the compelled execution of a false witness statement by, Plaintiff Khadafy Manning by John Does #1 through #6 were carried out using unjustified and unconstitutionally excessive force.

327. As a direct and proximate result of such acts, John Does #1 through #6 deprived Mr. Manning of his Fourth and Fourteenth Amendment rights in violation of 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

328. As a direct and proximate result of those constitutional abuses, Mr. Manning has suffered, and will continue to suffer, physical, mental, and emotional pain and suffering, mental anguish, embarrassment, and humiliation.

329. The acts of John Does #1-#6 were intentional, wanton, malicious, reckless, and oppressive, thus entitling Plaintiff Khadafy Manning to an award of punitive damages.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Individual Claims of Quinnetta Manning Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 Against John Does #1 through #6)

330. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege paragraphs 1 through 329 above as if fully set forth herein.

331. The conduct of John Does #1 through #6 on June 16, 2016 in unlawfully and forcibly entering Mrs. Manning's home, unlawfully detaining Mrs. Manning, and unlawfully compelling Mrs. Manning to write a false witness statement under threat of criminal punishment, was conduct performed entirely under color of law, absent reasonable suspicion of criminality or other constitutionally-required grounds, and on the basis of Mrs. Manning's race. The seizure, which amounted to an arrest, of Plaintiff Quinnetta Manning by John Does #1 through #6 was carried out using excessive and disproportionate force.

332. As a direct and proximate result of such acts, John Does #1 through #6 deprived Mrs. Manning of her Fourth and Fourteenth Amendment rights in violation of 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

333. As a direct and proximate result of those constitutional abuses, Mrs. Manning has suffered, and will continue to suffer, physical, mental, and emotional pain and suffering, mental anguish, and crippling fear of law enforcement.

334. The acts of John Does #1 through #6 were intentional, wanton, malicious, reckless, and oppressive, thus entitling Plaintiff Quinnetta Manning to an award of punitive damages.
